

Ferguson Media

Stories that stick. Strategies that scale.

A youth-driven media & technology company proving that South Africa is winning.

fergusonmedia.co.za

South Africa is winning. We prove it.

Ferguson Media is a South African media and technology company built on a simple conviction: extraordinary things happen in this country every day, and most of them never get told.

We combine storytelling, digital innovation and community radio to document South Africa's progress, and help brands, government and development agencies share their impact.

Change the narrative about South Africa, one documented story at a time.

South Africa is full of people doing extraordinary things, and most of it never gets told. We combine media, technology and youth development to change that: to document progress, amplify trusted voices, and give brands and institutions a way to prove the good they are doing.

Your organisation is doing good.

Can people see it?

01

Money spent, no record left

Community projects without documented proof, just spreadsheets and receipts.

02

CSI reports that don't land

Reports list what was spent, not what actually changed for real people.

03

Campaigns that don't connect

Messaging that misses the audiences mainstream media rarely reaches.

Three ways we work with your organisation.

01 Good News Story Impact Documentation

Broadcast-quality journalism that documents your CSI work and lives on permanently.

02 Community Media Hub Radio & Grassroots Distribution

Anchored by 919 FM Sandton, reaching townships & rural communities in local languages.

03 Creative Hub Content Production

Full-service social, video, web, podcast and brand production by a youth-led team.
